CAUGHT CHINK CLIFF DWELLER

CHINESE SUSPECTED OF ROB-BING PRISONERS OF THEIR GRUB ARRESTED.

A cliff dweller has been dislodged from the shades of Diamond Head. He is a chink and his name is Lum Hung. He is alleged to be too lazy to work but energetic enough to labor to avoid working which seems rather paradoxical but is nevertheless, so the officers assert, true. Lum was annexed by the police this morning.

For some time past there has been a shortage of grub for the prisoners who have been working at Kapiolani Park. Some one has been stealing the food. The prison guards have been on the watch for the marauder but until recently, he was able to elude them. This morning the supposed marauder was nabbed in his lair, up in the shadow of a cave in Diamond Head. It was a burial cave formerly, but now it was serving as a robber's lair, so the police claim.

The chink, he does not look nearly so romantic as a cave dwelling robber is supposed to look, was an ugly, dirty appearing individual and was about as chaven a thing as has come to the police station in a long time.

MORGAN CABLES TO GOVERNOR

CHIEF CLERK BUCKLAND RECEIVED A CABLEGRAM TODAY FROM J. F. MORGAN IN FRISCO.

Chief Clerk Buckland in the Governor's office received a cablegram from J. F. Morgan who went up on the Nippon Maru to San Francisco to act as the representative of the Governor's relief fund committee of this place. The cable asked how much money had been sent by the Ventura and in whose charge it was sent.

Mr. Morgan will now take charge of the relief work for the Hawaiians in San Francisco relieving Mr. Fraser. Alexander & Baldwin heard from John T. Waterhouse and E. R. Adams, who went up also on the Nippon Maru to San Francisco, by cable. They went as buyers for Alexander & Baldwin.

Evidently James F. Morgan misunderstood the arrangement for sending him funds with which to carry on the relief work in San Francisco. The first installment amounting to $30,000 was forwarded by the S. S. Ventura in registered mail, $15,000 in coin and $15,000 in drafts, care of Alexander & Baldwin, Oakland. He was supposed by the local committee to go to Alexander & Baldwin and secure the money from that firm.

MRS. NAKUINA WANTS THE ADVERTISER'S SCALP

THE COMMISSIONER OF WATER RIGHTS WOULD LIKE TO GET HOLD OF THE MORNING PAPER BY THE HAIR AND DO SOME CUTTING—DISCLAIMS INTENT TO CRITICIZE THE ATTORNEY GENERAL'S DEPARTMENT, BUT DID SO.

Mrs. Nakuina, water commissioner, wants to scalp the Advertiser. She said so herself, from the bench, this afternoon during the hearing of the Palolo Valley water case, when Deputy Attorney General Milverton called attention to her attention to an article in the paper this morning, which quoted Mrs. Nakuina as not believing that the Territory had played fair in the case and as intending to put on some evidence of her own. Milverton said the remarks were a reflection on the attorney general's department, also that they indicated that the commissioner had prejudged the case. He further declared that the putting on of evidence should be left to the contestants.

Mrs. Nakuina disclaimed prejudging the case or criticizing the attorney general, but she emphatically declared her intention to put on all the evidence she could get.

"I am not responsible for what the Advertiser says or intimates," said the court with considerable emphasis. "I did not reflect on the attorney general's department. I did not know until this moment that the attorney general's department put the oil in the stream."

The alleged playing unfair was oiling the upper sources of water and then putting on testimony to show that the oil appeared below, thus attempting to prove where the lower water came from.

"Everyone knows that that Advertiser when it wants to be," continued the court, "is one of the nastiest—I know I often wish I could scalp it."

The commissioner went on to explain that she had not prejudged the case and was not aiding A. F. Cooke's side. In fact, she said, her sympathies were all the other way and she was making the most earnest efforts not to let them influence her at all. As for introducing evidence herself, she proposed to bring forward all she could get.

D. L. Withington, who appears for Cooke against the numerous natives who are contesting his right to the waters in dispute, declared it to be the duty of the commissioner to bring forward any available testimony. With this the hearing was resumed. Both sides closed yesterday, but Mrs. Nakuina had been given information and she is proceeding to see that it gets into the record.

CHILDREN CELEBRATE MAY DAY

Today is May Day—perhaps these few words have lost their charm with the grown folks of Honolulu, perhaps they no longer thrill the business men of this city as they did once, but one need only have visited Thomas Square this morning to have them brought back to him with all of their one time force.

Thomas Square was the scene of much pleasure this morning. Some hundreds of school children of all nationalities were to be seen romping and playing about the square while their shouts of glee could be heard for blocks away. Dressed in all colors and in different costumes they made a very pretty scene as they danced about the lawn keeping perfect time with the music of the band for the county very generously sent Captain Berger and his band out to make music for the little ones.

The children from all of the lower grades and kindergartens of the city were there. Over three hundred were in the crowd. Here and there were teachers looking out for the wants of the toddlers and inventing new games for their charges. As they romped about there could not have been one among the spectators who did not wish himself a child again.

In the absence of a Maypole the band stand made a very good substitute. As the band played the children six and eight abreast locked arms and skipping in time to the music circled round and round the band stand. Those who were not fortunate enough to obtain places among these formed little groups and circles about the different trees.

Then of course there was the small boy who couldn't be kept out of the trees. To all of the teachers' injunctions to come down the boys only climbed higher. And where is the teacher who would think of punishing a boy on May Day? Then there was the camera fiend. About the time all of the children would get interested in some game along would come some person who wanted to take pictures and so the children would have to stop their game and "look pleasant."

May Day from the children's standpoint was a success. If the business men whose hair has turned grey from worry will stop to give it a thought they will realize that it was ever thus.

MUST THE FIVE KOREANS BE HANGED?

DISTINGUISHED CITIZENS DISCUSS THE QUESTION AT A SOCIAL SCIENCE CLUB MEETING—JUSTICE WILDER AND JUDGE LINDSAY SUPPORT DEPUTY ATTORNEY GENERAL MILVERTON IN SUSTAINING THE DEATH SENTENCE.

For several hours the Social Science Club and a number of guests had an interesting discussion on Saturday evening of the question of hanging or commuting the five Koreans who are in Oahu jail under death sentence. The meeting was called in view of the campaign for commutation and an expression of opinion by the club was anticipated, in favor of commutation. The gathering was a very distinguished one. Though a majority of those present supported the movement, there was strong opposition, and the meeting ended in the appointment of a committee to secure the transcript of evidence in the Korean's trial and report at a future meeting. At the close of the session on motion of W. O. Smith, it was voted

CARE OF MONEY IN COURTS

CIRCUIT JUDGES ASK FOR MONTHLY REPORTS OF THE CONDITION OF FINANCES.

The three circuit judges this morning promulgated a new order, prepared by Judge De Bolt, for the better keeping of the court funds and accounts. It is in the form of a letter to the head clerk of the judiciary department, as follows:

"Henry Smith, Esq., Clerk Judiciary Department.

"Sir:—With regard to the money paid into court and deposited in the First National Bank of Hawaii pursuant to a rule of this court entitled, 'Order Relating to Money Paid Into Court,' promulgated April 29, 1906, we, the undersigned, as the judges of said court, would respectfully request that you report to us in writing on the first day of each and every month, commencing with June 1, 1906, the exact status of each and every cause and matter pending in this court, relative to such money so paid in and deposited, showing the balance, if any, payable in each instance. You will also include in such reports the exact status of such deposits in the bank, giving the exact balance on hand, together with a detailed statement of the dates and amount of each deposit; also the date, amount and name of payee of each and every check drawn by you during the month next preceding such report by you.

"We also deem it business-like and indispensable to accuracy that you have the bank book written up and balanced each month; that you keep a detailed record upon the stub of each check drawn relative to such check; that all checks drawn by you and paid by the bank be promptly obtained from the bank and carefully preserved; and

PIMPS' DASTARDLY TRAFFIC

FEDERAL ARRESTS REVEAL THE WORKINGS OF INFAMOUS GANGS FROM COAST.

A federal arrest made this morning for a violation of the Edmunds Act is declared to reveal the workings of a Japanese gang of pimps who are soliciting women into slavery at San Francisco. It is an old and oft repeated story, the oriental scheme here of enticing women to the coast to sell them there, but the arrest made today reveals more of the details of its working than is usually revealed. The man arrested is a Jap named Tigara, and he is said to have been about to take his victim to the coast, where he would have realized his expenses and three or four hundred dollars as a reward of his work in getting her there.

"The town is full of these pimps," said Editor Shiozawa this morning. "They come here from the coast to get women and they go to plantations after them. They made the acquaintance of women and seek to entice them away from their husbands or homes by glittering tales of good, easy times elsewhere. By means of presents and other inducements they get the women to Honolulu, then to San Francisco. When once the victim reaches the coast
